ISLAND OF CUBA.

TO INVALIDS AND PERSONS OF DELICATE, HEALTH WHO VISIT THIS ISLAND.—HAVANA, December 15, 1841.—It has long been a matter of regret to the inhabitants of this city, that, on the arrival of invalids from the United States with letters of introduction, it has never been in their power to recommend them a suitable residence in the country. It has therefore been necessary for the country. It has therefore been necessary for such persons, either to take up their abode in the hotels in town, where the noise and bustle of a crowded city, and the want of the pure atmosphere and calar retirement of a country life, prevent their deriving that benefit from the change of climate which they naturally expect, or they are compelled to go to places in the country where no adequate preparations have been made for receiving them, and where the apartments, accommodations, and manner of living, are in no wise calculated for persons in a delicate

From a due consideration of this want, and of the great benefit that would be derived by invalids who seek to regain that health in the mild and beneficent climate of Cuba, if a suitable abode should be provided for them, the subscriber, a medical practitioner long established in this city, has appropriated his beautiful coffee estate called the Bueña Esperanza, situated in the most healthy and romantic part of the country, so as to form a residence equally agreeable and attractive. In order to carry out this intention to the fullest extent that professional knowledge and a long experience of the effects of tropical climates could attain, no pains have been spared to form an establishment, which affords to the invalid, as well as to the healthy visiter, every rational enjoyment that From a due consideration of this want, and of the establishment, which affords to the invalid, as well as to the healthy visiter, every rational enjoyment that can be derived from dwelling in the mildest climate, surrounded by the most picturesque vegetation. The grounds, laid out in the beautiful style of a coffee estate, comprise about five hundred acres. The Bucha Esperanza is situated on the south side of the island. Experimia is situated on the south side of the island, and is thus, in a great measure, sheltered from the chilly winds which now and then blow from the north during the winter months. The district in which it lies has been, from its extreme beauty, termed the Windsor of Cuba. The house has been built with every attention to those comforts so indispensable to invalids, and of which the buildings of this country are so destitute. All the rooms have boarded floors and glass windows. The establishment is on the footing of that of a private family, of which the guests form part, making themselves quite at home, and without being confined to those regulations which are necessary at hotels. In this establishment the invalid has it in his power to vary his amusements, by walknecessary at hotels. In this establishment the invalid has it in his power to vary his amusements, by walking in the shady avenues of mango and pain trees, riding on horseback or in a volante, or visiting the neighboring estates, so thickly spread through the populous country. A large sugar estate close at hand, affords an opportunity of drinking the hot cane juice, while the surrounding woods furnish amusement to the sportsman.

The subscriber's numerous family resides constantly on the neemises.

The Bueña Esperanza is situated about thirty-five The Buena Experanza is situated about thirty-five miles southwest of Havana. The route, which crosses a most lovely country, is as follows: From Havana to Bejucal, fifteen miles on railroad; from Bejucal to Buena Esperanza, twenty miles on a car-riage road. It occupies about five hours. By appli-cation to the subscriber at his residence in Havana, No. 95 O'Reilly street, the party can be forwarded to-the estate without delay.

All persons applying are expected, if not previously known, to bring an introduction from some respectable mercantile house of this city.

EDWARD FINLAY, M. D.

EDWARD FINLAY, M. D.,
Calle de O'Reilly, No. 95.

I have visited and spent a short time at the estate of Dr. Finlay, described in the above letter, and most fully concur in every statement there made as to the Baena Esperanza. It is not surpassed for beauty of scenery and a healthy location by any place which I have seen in Cuba, and the invalid will find the numagnitude of Dr. Finlay most agreeable, and inmerous family of Dr. Finlay most agreeable and in-telectual; and the English, French, and Spanish lan-guages are all spoken by several members of the tamily.

No collection of American Poetry has ever been made at all comparable to this, whether we regard the completeness of the work, or the t ste disnayed is the selection of the roots whose productions from eight with the roots from various Authors who, without pretending to the rank of Poets, have yet written occasional verses. Where the poet h s published an edition of his own works, the selections are comparatively few; but where the author tions are comparatively few; but where the author has left his works to take care of themselves, the exhas left his works to take care of themselves, the extracts have been more voluminous. This is a praise worthy feature, since it preserves for us in a collected form, the works of Whittier, Sprague, and others.
